

Attention Ladies!!!

All-Female Marksmanship Clinic Hinckley, MN May 22-23

Please join me in welcoming a special kind of Appleseed Marksmanship Clinic to Hinckley, MN on May 22-23, 2010! What's so special about this one? Well, it's been designated Ladies-Only! That's right, this one is for you! So, leave the men at home with the boys and come out and learn to shoot exceptionally well!

The Appleseed Project is sponsored by the Revolutionary War Veterans Association(RWVA). An all-volunteer, non-profit organization dedicated to educating people in Marksmanship, History and American Heritage. Not only will you learn to master the Traditional Marksmanship skills that made our Independence a reality; you'll also learn about those who made the sacrifices that led to our Freedom. Let me tell you, there was more than a few women who made this possible.

Who better to teach women, than women? The RWVA has highly qualified female instructors who will be instructing this event! What would be the point of having all-female event, without all-female instructors? Our female instructors know very well what they're about; and they're looking to teach YOU what they know!

You'll also get to meet other women who share your interests and you'll likely make life-long friends. Don't be afraid, you can keep your old friends too. In fact, bring them along. Everyone is welcome! All skill-levels welcome. From the most novice, to the expert; I guarantee you'll learn something new! Bring your mom, daughter, sister, grandmother, cousin! Tell the guys they're out this time but they can come to one of our regular events. Sound too good to be true? Well, it's not! But don't take my word for it; find out for yourself! Sign up now! Find out why women across the country spend their weekends Appleseed-ing!
