Can You Uphold the American Tradition of Excellence in Rifle Shooting?

If you want to see how YOU measure up, try this:
Use any rifle, with any sights. A sling is recommended, but no fair using bench rests, bipods, or sandbags.

Shoot three shots at the big target, standing.
Shoot three at the middle target, sitting or kneeling.
Shoot three at the small target, prone. (on your belly)

Shots touching a scoring ring count the higher value.
Add 'em up.

38-45 points is pretty darn good. You might be a Rifleman already. Come to an Appleseed shooting clinic, polish your skills, and help others learn to shoot as well as you do.

30-37 points is better than average. Come to an Appleseed shooting clinic, and get better yet.

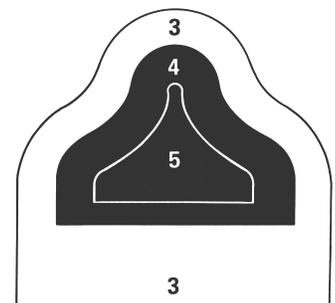

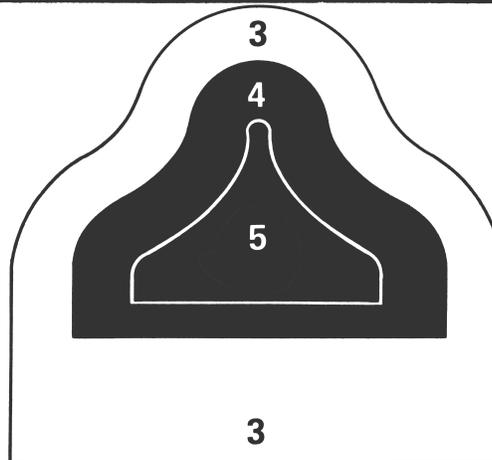

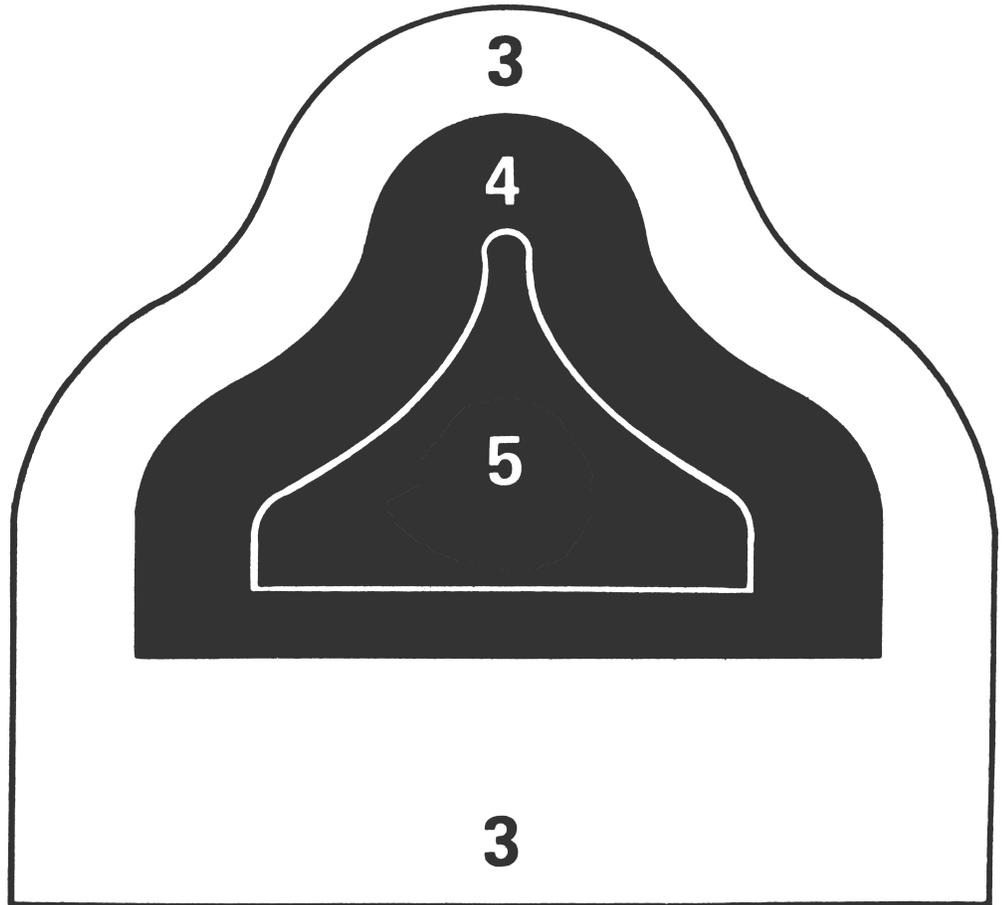

20-29 points is pretty fair, but you can learn to do MUCH BETTER at an Appleseed shooting clinic.

0-19 points means you've got lots of room to improve. No better place to do that than at an Appleseed shooting clinic. Learn how much more fun it is to hit, than to miss!

"Whoever looks upon them as an irregular mob will find himself very much mistaken. They have men amongst them who know very well what they are about ... "

Brigadier General Hugh Lord Percy, leader of the British brigade sent to rescue the Lexington-Concord raiding party. Said of the colonial fighters. April, 1775

We're as family-friendly as it gets! Anyone under 21 shoots (and learns) free! Active military, reservists, guardsmen shoot and learn free, too!

Simulated 100-yard, 200-yard, and 300-yard targets. Shoot standing, sitting, and prone.

Learn the six steps to firing a (good) shot and the seventh step, to become a better American. Get the full benefit out of your sling. Hear some American history like it's seldom told in school. Find out how to dependably hit that 300-yard target, and the same at 400 and 500! Meet great people!
