Introducing the MMG .22 caliber snap cap

The first and only fully functional snap cap for a rim-fire rifle. The MMG snap cap is injection molded from an advanced thermoplastic resin that allows the snap cap to withstand repeated firings. The elastomeric material allows the snap cap to absorb the energy of the firing pin like real .22 caliber ammunition. This snap cap has been tested in most popular sport shooting and competition .22 rifles. The cap has held up to every rifle we have tested it in and we are so confident in its durability, MMG is offering a money back guarantee*.

The MMG .22 caliber has been tested in the following brands of rifles:

- Ruger
- Remington
- Marlin
- Savage
- CZ
- Brno
- Anschutz
- Rossi

The MMG snap cap is molded in safety orange color and is ideal for hunters safety and youth competition training. The MMG snap cap will allow for magazine loading and dry-fire training exercises.

A convenient order form is included on the back of this letter. Order some today and protect your rifles from potential dry-fire damage.

* MMG guarantee is just for normal breakage of the snap cap when used in the manner that it is intended to be used. The snap cap may be dented by a rifle with a strong firing pin, and this is considered normal and part of the design of the product. Return any broken product for a full refund (except shipping and handling charges).
